

View Groups

The View Groups toolbar is used to open and close windows and manage View Groups. It also has added control for opening previously viewed models and design files during the current session of MicroStation.

View Previous Model  – by selecting the icon you will open the last model or design file opened. You can also select the drop down arrow to see the list of previously opened models.

View Next Model  – by selecting the icon you will open the next model or design file opened. You can also select the drop down arrow to see the list of next models to be opened.

All Models  – by selecting the drop down arrow you can see all the models and design files opened during the current session of MicroStation. This list is not the same as File History and will be emptied between sessions of MicroStation.
